

10th EXPOTROF

03 - 05 FEBRUARY 2024

The Alelma Company, a famous canned tuna producer, recently made a big splash at the 10th EXPOTROF.

This event provided the perfect platform for Alelma to showcase its top quality products to a wide audience of food lovers and industry professionals. With a focus on sustainability, Alelma's presence at the show underscored its commitment to offering premium tuna products that are not only delicious but also produced with the environment in mind.

Visitors to the Alelma Company booth were treated to an experience like no other as they sampled the delectable range of tuna products on offer.

From traditional tuna in olive oil to innovative tuna spreads, Alelma has proven its versatility and dedication to meeting the diverse needs of consumers.

The company's participation in EXPOTROF not only allowed them to connect with potential customers and partners, but also served as a testament to its position in the tuna industry.

As alelma continues to grow and expand its reach, its presence at events such as EXPOTROF reinforces its reputation as a reliable supplier of high-quality tuna products. With a focus on quality, sustainability and innovation, Alelma is poised to make a lasting impact on the culinary world, one tuna jar at a time.

PASTA SAUCE WITH TUNA

Introducing a new product is always an exciting venture for any company and Alelma is no exception. The launch of “READY PASTA SAUCE WITH TUNA” brings a unique twist to traditional pasta dishes, catering to those who enjoy the flavors of seafood. This innovative product combines the rich flavors of a classic pasta sauce with the rich taste of tuna, creating a delicious and convenient option for meals at home.

Alelma's Tuna Pasta Sauce offers a convenient solution for busy people who want to spice up their pasta dishes with minimal effort. Whether you're a seafood lover or just want to try something new, this product offers a tasty and convenient option for a quick and tasty meal. With the quality and expertise that Alelma is known for, customers can trust that this new product will deliver a delicious experience every time.

